DETAILED ACTION

Applicant cancelled claims 2-21; therefore, ONLY claim 1 is pending.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6671022. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6671022 is narrower with an extra feature of auxiliary electrode connected to the gate lines.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kim (US6335776B1).

Kim et al. teach (Figs. 3 and 4) a multi-domain liquid crystal display device comprising:

- first and second substrates;
- a liquid crystal layer between the first and second substrates;
- data lines 3 for applying a data signal on the first substrate;
- gate lines 1 crossing the data lines to apply a gate signal;
- pixel electrodes 13 for driving a liquid crystal of the liquid crystal layer;
- switching devices arranged at each intersection between the gate lines and the data lines;
- auxiliary electrode lines 15 extended vertically from the gate lines to control an orientation of the liquid crystal in accordance with electrical potential on the gate lines [the orientation (not domains) of the liquid crystal conventionally is always according with electrical potential on the gate lines].

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

Lee (US 6680769 B1) discloses a multi-domain liquid crystal display device includes first and second substrates facing each other and a liquid crystal layer between the first and second substrates.

Lee (US20020012091A1) discloses a multi-domain liquid crystal display device comprising a subsidiary or auxiliary electrode 27. The subsidiary electrode 27 distorts electric field. The subsidiary electrode 27 may also shields light from leaking at gate bus lines 1, data bus lines 3, and the TFT. A color filter layer 23 is on the subsidiary electrode 27, and a common electrode 17 is on the color filter layer 23. A liquid crystal layer is between first and second substrates 31, 33.

Kim et al. (US 6671020 B2) disclose a liquid crystal display device, and more particularly, to a multi-domain liquid crystal display device in which a common auxiliary electrode is formed around and in a pixel region on a same layer as a gate line, and at least one or more electric field induction windows and dielectric structures are formed in the pixel region.
